SECURELOGIN

Hi, thanks for purchasing this file.

First of all i'd like to point out that this file can be used as is or it can be stripped down and and used as 2 seperate files, one for the login script, and the other for the fullscreen random background image.

Editing the passwords

To Edit the passwords for your clients/users double click the movie clip in the library named "logoRIGHTMC" and then click once on the hitSpot which is found on the login button, then open your actions panel and edit the appropriate username and password.

```
if (Text11.text == "demo" and Text12.text == "demo") {
        gotoAndPlay("co1");
```

i.e the first "demo" is the username and the second "demo" is the password, change them to whatever you please. co1

Editing the URL's

To Edit the URL's for a specific client follow the steps above and then navigate to the actions layer above the labels layer. Select the client and change the URL accordingly.

```
getURL
("javascript:NewWindow=window.open('http://www.flashden.net','newWin','width='+screen.availWidth+',height='+screen.availHeight+',left=0,top=0,toolbar=No,location=No,scrollbars=No,status=No,resizable=yes,fullscreen=Yes');NewWindow.focus();void(0);");
```

in the above example the pop-up window will automatically be resized to fit the users screen. If you're not familiar with javascript then you can use this useful popup generator from flash-db to help you generate the code, then just copy and paste it into the getURL function above.

http://www.flash-db.com/PopUp/PopUp.swf

Any question to: camel_hoof60@hotmail.com

Cheers!